Most challenging cases in paediatric oncology

Speaker Profile

16 October 2024 A challenging case of generalised precursor B-cell lymphoblastic lymphoma (pre-B-LBL) in an infant

Speaker: Triin Pohlak (Estonia)

I am a paediatrician completing my last year of paediatric haematology-oncology residency in Tartu University Hospital, Estonia. My professional work includes all types of haematological and solid tumours, as well as benign haematology. However, the fields that I am especially interested in, are malignant haematology and haematopoietic stem cell transplantation in children. In autumn 2022 I spent 2 months in Karolinska University Hospital, Sweden, to improve my knowledge on HSCT.

I am a member of Estonian Haematology Society, NOPHO and SIOPE, and also participating in the work of young NOPHO board.
